Synopsis

The suicide of popular idol Lee Ah-ri is broadcast live on YouTube by notorious "cyber scavengers(content creators who exploit scandals for views)." Determined to uncover the truth behind his sister's tragic death, her brother, Lee Ah-jin, embarks on a quest to trace the source of the malicious rumors. But as Ah-jin delves deeper into the mystery, he begins to realize he's becoming more and more like the very cyber scavengers he despises. Consumed by guilt and self-doubt, Ah-jin's world starts to unravel—until he's forced to confront an even darker truth...

Synopsis

[Chapter 1]

Ordinary high school student Lee Ah-jin loses his idol sister to a cyber witch-hunt instigated by "cyber scavengers." Stripped of hope and purpose, Ah-jin is approached by Seol-i, who offers a way to clear his sister's tarnished name. Together, they embark on a journey filled with deception, where lies are manipulated into truths.

[Chapter 2]

As Ah-jin grows closer to Seol-i, he feels a sense of empathy for her, realizing they share similar pasts. However, he begins to transform into the very thing he once loathed. While aiding Seol-i in her quest for revenge, they uncover the grim reality that the so-called "justice-seeking" cyber scavengers are just as ruthless in their own witch hunts, acting as mere puppets for the elite. This painful revelation shatters their beliefs and hopes.

[Chapter 3]

Fueled by their desire for vengeance, Ah-jin and Seol-i rush headlong into action, but soon discover their abilities are inadequate against the forces they face. Just when it seems all is lost, former enemies emerge as unexpected allies, ready to support their cause. Together, can Ah-jin and Seol-i dismantle the powerful alliance between the cyber scavengers and Korea's elite, and reclaim their lives?

Synopsis

As the chief secretary of South Korea's top conglomerate, Samhyeon Group, Kim Moo-han dedicates himself to uncovering the family's secrets but is killed for knowing too much. After his death, he returns to the past, inhabiting the body of Son Jun-ki, the youngest son of Samhyeon Group, 15 years earlier.

Driven by revenge against those who caused his demise, Kim Moo-han uses his future knowledge to eliminate competitors and amass wealth through stock manipulation, ultimately seizing control of Samhyeon Group.

However, on the day of his inauguration as chairman, a mysterious figure named Yeong-hwan appears, declaring himself a hunter of regressors and passing judgment on Son Jun-ki's crimes. Confident in his power, Son Jun-ki is pushed off a building by Yeong-hwan, leading to his death. Kim Moo-han awakens again, trapped in an endless cycle of dying and returning to life.

Synopsis

Lee Hoi-cha, team leader of the Seoul Metropolitan Police's violent crimes unit, loses his wife and son to a heinous criminal released due to lack of evidence. After a tragic truck accident, he finds himself returning to the time of his police academy graduation. Driven to eliminate criminals, Lee has faced death multiple times and is now on his 13th reincarnation.

He captures serial killer Choi Nam-soon, who kidnapped and murdered a female college student, and drowns him in a reservoir. Calling himself the "God of Justice who judges future crimes," Lee has killed 158 potential criminals. However, regressor hunter Yeong-hwan seeks to stop him, but after a fierce confrontation, Lee kills Yeong-hwan and continues his crusade.

However, while attempting to dismantle a human trafficking ring, Lee Hoi-cha meets death once again and returns to the past. This time, something feels different. As he witnesses a murder case identical to one he had previously resolved with Choi Nam-soon, confusion sets in. Upon visiting Choi Nam-soon's home, he confronts a shocking truth: Choi Nam-soon is also a regressor with the same ability.

After being killed by Choi Nam-soon, Lee Hoi-cha reincarnates yet again, but this time he discovers that his family has vanished. He realizes that their disappearance is the work of Choi Nam-soon...

Synopsis

In 2025 South Korea, a body surfaces in the sea of Cheonin Island, a paradise where everyone wants to live. The deceased is Dr. Cheon Woo-min, the creator of the island. Gu Tae-jung, a police officer originally from Cheonin Island, is dispatched to investigate. Although the police conclude it was a suicide, Tae-jung, knowing Dr. Cheon's acrophobia, suspects murder and delves into the case.

Seo Hye-young from the Seoul Metropolitan Police Agency joins Tae-jung to assist. While searching for narcotic plants on Hye-young's tablet, Tae-jung notices a flower similar to one he saw at the house of Eun-young, a resident of Cheonin Island. Tae-jung confronts Eun-young, who confesses to a past drug addiction and reveals she was coerced by Min-ho of the Triad into producing drugs. Tae-jung sets a trap for Min-ho and, after a fierce struggle, is about to subdue him when Chief Jeon Man-ho of Pyeongan Police Station arrives. Initially relieved by Man-ho's appearance, Tae-jung soon senses something amiss and realizes that Min-ho, Man-ho, and Eun-young are accomplices.

Eun-young, Min-ho, and Man-ho form a new triad. Unsettled by Hye-young's actions, Eun-young plans to deal with Hye-young, while Min-ho targets Tae-jung. After Eun-young creates a narcotic smoke at Hye-young's home, Min-ho enters wielding a knife. Hye-young narrowly escapes with help from Sook-hee, but is eventually caught by Min-ho. Sook-hee and Hye-young find themselves trapped in the basement. Suddenly, they hear commotion above as Cheon-gu Sa, a group united to save Cheonin Island, intervenes and subdues Min-ho.

Synopsis

Upon learning of Man-ho's death from the police, Hye-young rushes to the underground warehouse where Min-ho is held. There, she witnesses the warehouse ablaze and encounters members of Cheon-gu Sa. The veil is lifted on Cheon-gu Sa's leader, revealing it to be Eun-young.

With the keys she took from Min-ho and Man-ho, Eun-young heads to Dr. Cheon's house. She manages to unlock Dr. Cheon's secret safe, only to find a note inside stating that all information has been sent to the police when the safe was opened. Realizing she's been exposed, Eun-young plans her escape. She sets fire to the underground facility where the Cheonin Flower was cultivated and boards a hidden boat. Meanwhile, Hye-young spots the fire and aims her gun at Eun-young's escaping boat. Suddenly, flames erupt at the island's entrance and sirens blare. Hye-young and Tae-jung rush to evacuate people, barely managing to escape the island. Thus, Cheonin Island becomes deserted.

Tae-jung Gu

Born an orphan, he was raised by Dr. Cheon Woo-min on Cheonin Island. At the age of twenty, he grew weary of the peaceful and conflict-free happiness of Cheonin Island, and he ventured out on his own initiative for the first time. He pursued a career as a police officer to live a life filled with adventure. Upon the death of Dr. Cheon Woo-min, whom he regarded as a father, he returns to Cheonin Island. He possesses a peculiar trait: when faced with danger, he instinctively rushes forward without hesitation.

Hye-young Seo

She is an elite from the police academy, having led a trouble-free life in a privileged environment. Her sister was sexually harrassed. Tae-jung apprehends the criminal, but in the process, he resorts to excessive force, which Seo Hye-young overlooks. She is cautious and thoughtful.

Woo-min Cheon

30 years ago, he purchased a deserted island called "Hwado" and ventured in with a thousand selected individuals to create a community free from conflicts and filled with happiness. He eventually succeeded in building the harmonious community everyone had hoped for. He was both a psychiatrist and a skilled programmer, widely respected by the villagers. However, he tragically met his demise due to a mysterious incident.

Synopsis

Due to some unknown reason, no boys are born, plunging humanity into an existential crisis. With males becoming scarce, crimes like kidnapping and human trafficking surge. Governments detain their male citizens in "shelters" to safely harvest their sperm.

Jessica (Hannah), a popular actress with a glamorous image, is sponsored by Valentine, the boss of a human trafficking cartel. One day, a young man claiming to be her brother, "Jin," appears before her. Hannah assumes Jin was raised well in the shelter, recalling her mother who abandoned her and her impoverished past, feeling inferior to him. Meanwhile, Valentine receives a request from the South Korean government to find Jin, who escaped. Jin, possessing high-value sperm due to numerous Y chromosomes, is worth $500 million. Valentine accepts the proposal.

Hannah decides to take revenge on Jin for their mother, but as she gets closer to him, she begins to feel a sense of family. Conflicting between her protective instincts as an older sister and the feelings of resentment towards her younger brother who monopolized their mother's love. Eventually, Hannah lashes out at him, prompting Jin to promise to reveal the truth by handing over their mother's diary to Hannah. As she unfolds the diary, she discovers a hidden bomb detonation device buried deep within the notebook.

Synopsis

Hannah's mother, Mina, was raped in the shelter and gave birth to Jin against her will. Unable to develop any affection for Jin, Mina gradually loses her mind. Upon seeing Hannah on TV, she begins to equate herself with Hannah. Consumed by delusions of fixing the chaotic world, Mina installs a bomb in a secret location within the shelter, believing that the shelter must disappear to set things right. Realizing she is destined to die from cancer, Mina instructs Jin to escape the shelter and tells him to make Hannah detonate the bomb.

Upon seeing a photo of Jin dressed as a woman, Valentine soon realizes that he is the boy the government is searching for. Consumed by betrayal, Valentine orders her men to ambush the cargo ship where Jin plans to board, and informs Hannah. Determined to sacrifice everything for Jin, Hannah rushes to the harbor and guns down Valentine's men who have captured Jin. After narrowly saving Jin, they board the ship and head straight to the Philippines together.

The public focuses on Hannah's disappearance, while both the government and Valentine's men pursue them, making escape difficult. Hannah, who has lost all her money, hits rock bottom. She barely manages to survive by committing crimes like robbery and assault to earn money.

Synopsis

To restore Hannah to her former position, Jin decides to give up his freedom. He voluntarily surrenders himself to a Korean shelter. Witnessing Jin's re-entry into the shelter, Hannah loses her sanity and detonates a bomb right there. Holding a gun, she storms into the shelter. Unrecognized by the staff, they draw their guns on her, prompting Jin to rush forward and take the bullets meant for her. Meanwhile, Valentine, also driven by madness, infiltrates the shelter to pursue Hannah and Jin. Firing randomly, she tragically mistakes Hannah for an enemy and shoots her down in the corridor. Realizing she has just killed Hannah, Valentine is shocked and frozen. Before she can grasp the situation, shelter staff arrive to arrest him, unaware of even the chaos that has ensued. Eventually, due to a series of explosions, the shelter collapses. The bodies of Hannah, Jin, and the shelter's men are buried in the rubble.

Synopsis

PRIDE LIFE, Korea's number one funeral company, offers a very special service to its VIP members. "Just one person designated by the VIP member, and we will kill that one person no matter what!"

Cheol-soo, the number one team leader of Pride Life, enters high school to finish his studies under the guidance of his father, the CEO, and grandfather, the Chairman. He is confronted by Jong-hee, a police spy who poses as Cheol-soo in order to dig up information about Cheol-soo and Pride Life. Jong-hee and her team leader Sun-ha are on a life and death mission to avenge the loss of a loved one at the hands of Pride Life. Unlike Cheol-soo, who knows nothing and has feelings for Jong-hee, Jong-hee has an ulterior motive and fakes her own suicide.

As he digs into the truth behind the suicide, Cheol-soo realises the dark side of PRIDE LIFE. Meanwhile, Jong-hee is at odds with Seon-ha, who has noticed a change in the man who started out as a revenge-seeker, but is now following the same path of corruption. Sun-ha kills Jong-hee's brother and manipulates PRIDE LIFE to blame him so that Jong-hee can attack PRIDE LIFE without their true purpose being discovered. In order to avenge the deaths of their respective loved ones, two funerals are held and Seon-ha leads the police to catch PRIDE LIFE. With only Kim and Cheol-soo left, Seon-ha turns the gun on them, not for arrest but for personal revenge.

Synopsis

Jin-soo, eager to reconnect with Jeannie, who has been out of touch for a year, yearns for early success. He dreams of winning a gaming tournament with his only talent—his gaming skills—and in a moment of desperation, he steals from Woo-ri’s wallet to buy a new keyboard and mouse. After suffering a humiliating defeat at the tournament, he unexpectedly encounters Woo-ri, who challenges him to a game. Though he loses again, he learns valuable lessons that extend beyond gaming. Their time together helps him realize his dishonesty has hurt others, prompting him to reconcile with his friends. As summer ends, Jin-soo faces Woo-ri again in a wager game, where he finally understands the importance of teamwork and emerges victorious.

Meanwhile, Min-seon starts expressing her emotions at work, improving her relationships with her colleagues. This newfound honesty sparks jealousy in her boss, Ko-eun, who tries to undermine her, but their coworkers rally around Min-seon. After a fight with her boyfriend, Ko-eun finds herself alone in the mountains, where she meets Grandma Woo-ri. This encounter forces her to confront her past wounds and jealousy toward Min-seon. Through their conversations, Ko-eun learns to accept her true self and sheds her facade of forced cheerfulness, ultimately resolving to escape her superficial relationship and the emptiness of corporate life.

Woo-ri Go

After raising six children as a full-time homemaker, Grandma Woo-ri finally embarks on the solo journey she always dreamed of but never had the chance to take. Now in her seventies, she sets off in a camper van, leaving behind her children and grandchildren. However, as she travels to escape the responsibilities of parenting, she continually encounters people who remind her of her own children, becoming a nurturing figure—“Grandma” to them all.

Min-sun Yoo(F, 27)

Min-sun is known as "SUNNY" at work. Despite her name, she is bullied in the company. Unable to speak out against the bullies and too lonely to confide in her family, Min-sun goes to the mountain to commit suicide. As she is about to hang herself, she sees Grandma Woo-ri.

Go-eun Choi(F, 29)

Choi Go-eun, Min-sun's boss. A bright, outgoing personality who makes herself the centre of attention wherever she goes. However, she gets jealous when someone else is interested in her and bullies them. Behind her confident and popular persona, she doesn't really know how to receive love.

Jin-soo Kim(M, 15)

Jinsoo has just started his second year of middle school. He and his friends, who have been invisible at school, decide to try a new challenge: smoking cigarettes. It's a sloppy affair. The only thing he's ever been praised for in his life is his gaming skills. While saving up money to enter a gaming tournament with a huge prize pool, he reaches into Grandma Woori's purse.

Seo-jin Park(F, 47)

Jin-soo's stepmother who runs a bakery. She tries to replace Jin-soo's mother, who died shortly after Jin-soo was born, and become a real mother figure for Jin-soo. Seo-jin's nickname is Genie with the Lamp because she does everything for him. One day she meets Grandma Woo-ri, who is donating bread to a kindergarten, and together they deliver the bread and become close. However, the over-expansion of the bakery becomes unprofitable and Seo-Jin's health deteriorates.

Synopsis

The government has kept her isolated from society for 17 years to keep her emotions under control, but there is an inevitable crisis. The arrival of puberty, a turbulent time. Gu-won was struggling to cope with the emotions of adolescence along with the desire of having family, the Special Management Bureau assigns three agents, Yoo Jang-pung (father), Kim Na-kyung (mother) and Yoo Soo-ho (brother), to act as a family and monitor Ji Gu-won around the clock, and the lives of four people who pretend to be normal, but are anything but, begin.

"Listen carefully. Your mission is to become Guwon's fake family"

They try to maintain a calm routine by matching Ji Gu-won's moods as much as possible, but something happens that shakes Ji Gu-won's emotions. One of them falls in love with someone from the same school. His crush is Han Xiu from the same school. The agents plan to help him without his knowledge, but on their first date, Han Shiu and Ji-won are kidnapped. ....

Gu-won JI

With the ability to manipulate natural disasters through her emotions, she spent her upbringing in a clandestine underground facility managed by government secret agencies until she turned 17. Initially compliant, the onset of adolescence brings uncontrollable emotions, prompting her to rebel and insist on exploring the outside world. Unaware of her own secret abilities, she inadvertently causes various incidents that frustrate the agents but gradually undergoes mental growth.

Soo-ho YOO

Code name B. He possesses a cold, handsome face devoid of emotions. Recruited by a government agency at a young age for his genius, he disguises himself as a high school senior to closely monitor JI GU-WON. Like other members of the secret agency, he grew up as an orphan, receiving rigorous professional training from an early age. Consequently, he is as socially inept. He meticulously analyzes the daily routines of JI GU-WON and offers solutions in a rational manner, but his lack of social skills sometimes leads him to employ unconventional methods.

Na-kyung KIM

Code name M. She is strikingly beautiful but possesses a cold, emotionless face. She assumes the role of JI GU-WON's mother. As a staunch individualist with a robotic rationality, she attempts to portray a warm maternal figure but often appears distant due to her inherent coldness.

Jang-pung YOO

Code name F. He was previously an expert in intense missions like assassination or sabotage before being assigned to his current role. He tends to solve problems in a straightforward and unsophisticated manner. To fulfill the role of a father figure, he portrays a calculatedly lazy middle-aged man worn down by life.

Synopsis

Exorcist Geop-jae LEE plans to return to secular life after his 70th exorcism. However, on his way back after completing his final exorcism, an accident claims the life of his lover and costs him one of his eyes. Meanwhile, the bishop, worried about LEE's mental state, sends him to Busan Hangdo Cathedral for his third sabbatical. The parish priest there, Si-young, is concerned about Lee's condition and wants to get closer to him, but Lee remains closed off. One day, Si-young breaks confidentiality and tells Lee about a confession from Myeong-ju, who claims to be possessed by a ghost.

Myeong-ju's condition deteriorates, and Si-young feels powerless as there's nothing he can do within church law. In contrast, Geop-jae ignores church law, finds Myeong-ju's address from the church records, and heads to her residence, 'Everyone's House.' Though initially met with suspicion, Lee gradually gains the trust of the residents and learns about the deaths that occurred there, including the fact that the fifth person to die was the founder of the 'Everyone's House.'

Synopsis

Defying church law, Geop-jae takes Myeong-ju from the 'Everyone's House' to the rectory. This act leads to a severe argument with Si-young, and both are reported to the Catholic authorities and placed on probation. During this time, Myeong-ju attempts suicide. Forced by her family to return to the 'Everyone's House,' Si-young and Geop-jae team up again to save her. They infiltrate the 'Everyone's House' and manage to expel the evil spirit through a difficult summoning ritual. However, the spirit begins to reveal the truth about the family.

The evil spirit, Myeong-ho, was the second son of the family in the 'Everyone's House.' The truth about his death, caught between suicide and murder, starts to unravel the family's secrets, showing how they grew increasingly isolated. One by one, everyone leaves the 'Everyone's House,' and Geop-jae sets out on a new exorcism mission.

Synopsis

Seo-lin, the head of class 2-5 at Gyungdo High School, discovers that the new AirPods she bought cheaply on a second-hand goods trading app are actually items listed as lost within the school. When she realises that the seller Joker's listings perfectly match the school's lost items, Seo-lin is also confronted with another incident when her idol trainee friend Yeong-eun's smartphone disappears, only to reappear with a Joker card. Sensing that she's being drawn into Joker's game, Seo-lin invites her friend Seungjae, whom she met through the AirPods, to join her investigation into the school's lost items, which takes unexpected turns.

As Seo-lin unravels the series of lost items, she tracks down the shadowy figure known as the Joker. Despite thinking through each suspect in turn, she discovers that they were all Joker's minions, and learns that evidence of these suspects' past misdeeds is being held as leverage on Joker's smartphone. Determined to uncover the truth, Seo-lin and Seungjae speed up their investigation, uncovering incidents of serious violence and corruption at the middle school the suspects attended. They uncover Joker's true identity and use Seo-lin to achieve their goals, hoping to ensure that Seo-lin's past painful experiences will not be repeated. In the end, they confront and bring justice to all involved, bringing closure to Seungjae and Seo-lin's pursuit of the thief.

Seo-lin Shin신서린(2학년 5반, 선도부장)

A class captain who tracks down thieves in his school, starting with the accidental purchase of a pair of second-hand earphones. As a child, she condoned a friend's theft, and after the victim's friend died, she feels guilty for her inaction. She wants to catch the thief (the Joker) and uncover the truth in order to prevent the theft from becoming a bigger incident with a butterfly effect. When he discovers the identity of the thief and his motives, he faces an ethical dilemma.

Seung-jae Dong동승재(2학년 3반, 방송반 작가)

The owner of the wares purchased by Seolin. An individualist who dislikes interfering in other people's affairs, he is persuaded by Seolin to help track down the thief. He is angry at the thief and sympathetic to the victim because of the deprivation and injustice he felt when he was robbed. He is a writer for the broadcasting department and knows the school gossip.

JOKER - UNKNOWN 조커(연쇄절도범)

The person who stole the wireless earphones from Seung-Jae and sold them to Seo-lin. His identity is unknown, but he uses the name JOKER on a second-hand trading app. He uses people's weaknesses and uses them as puppets.

Synopsis

Seok Min-gyu is a 30-year-old young man. His father died in an accident while working as a labourer at a construction site, leaving him with a mother who struggles with cleaning. Tired of living in a rush, Min-gyu accidentally enters the world of stocks and investments through an acquaintance, but loses all his hard-earned money in three months. At that moment, a film ticket called 'Invitation to the 13th' comes in the wind. Min-gyu follows the ticket to the 13th floor like a fool. He arrives at the end of the corridor on the 13th floor of the basement. To his surprise, the cinema's big screen shows Min-gyu's life along with the words "Seok Min-gyu's Past". If it had been anything less than a glamorous story, Mingyu would have been dismissed. But the past on the big screen, the day his father died in an accident, the day he and his mother's misery as students began to grow a little more. It was a scene that made Mingyu feel like he was in a Truman Show. A film with a future that only I can know, is this possible?

Synopsis

The second film began with the words "The Future of Seok Min-gyu". I couldn't take my eyes off the interview format in which a stranger in a sports car and suit appeared, and the 'investment know-how' of his future self as a young head of a large company was revealed. We learn that the investment he was considering was the seed of his future success. Thinking it's the perfect opportunity for him, Min-gyu decides to invest in Aircoin and the cryptocurrency exchange Airstation, just as he saw in the film, and borrows 100 million won from Jeong-il's uncle, Jeong-man, a gangster loan shark, using his life as collateral. Jung-man doesn't want to give Seok Min-kyu, who has no collateral, any room to run away, so he makes him invest 100 million at a huge interest rate in case of failure. The day after Min-gyu borrows and invests from Jung-man, Aircoin skyrockets. Min-gyu goes to Jung-man to settle all his debts, but Jung-man denies that he ever lent him money and kicks him out by force. He's then dragged back into Hall 13. The mysterious owner of the theatre shows him the past and the future, but it is neither the past nor the future, and now he is faced with the choice of facing the truth. As the air coin begins to crash, Min-kyu is chased by Jung-man, a money-mad man who is more frightening than the truth. Finally, Min-kyu will discover the truth about the 13th Pavilion and the last hope for his messed-up life... An invitation to the 13th Pavilion, a mystery thriller about human greed.

As the eldest daughter of the Chase Count family, she grew up facing discrimination while her sickly younger sister, Rielle, was favored. One day, realizing the unfairness of her situation, she decides to leave home. However, due to the customs of the empire, this proves to be a difficult task. During this time, she learns about Noel, an illegitimate son who must marry to inherit the title of Grand Duke. Seizing the opportunity, she proposes a contract marriage to him.

Noel Christan

Unlike his legitimate brother from the Cristan, he was born out of wedlock and endured all kinds of humiliation. Even his grandfather, the Grand Duke, denied him, which deeply hurt him. Although he had no initial desire for the title, he naturally became the successor after his brother's death. Now, he seeks to become the Grand Duke to prove himself to those who looked down on him. When he meets Irene, he quickly falls for her, captivated by her gentle yet strong nature.
